句意解析測驗 (作答時間: 60 分鐘)

【第二部分—英文文本分析，50 分】

Below are two English texts. The left one is a poem, and the right one is a story. Please answer the following questions in English.

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood, And sorry I could not travel both And be one traveler, long I stood And looked down one as far as I could To where it bent in the undergrowth; Then took the other, as just as fair, And having perhaps the better claim, Because it was grassy and wanted wear; Though as for that the passing there Had worn them really about the same, And both that morning equally lay In leaves no step had trodden black. Oh, I kept the first for another day! Yet knowing how way leads on to way, I doubted if I should ever come back. I shall be telling this with a sigh Somewhere ages and ages hence: Two roads diverged in a wood, and I— I took the one less traveled by, And that has made all the difference.	David stood at a significant point in his educational journey, deciding between two international schools in Hong Kong. The first one offered a strong academic curriculum, including subjects like humanities, sciences, and arts. It encouraged critical thinking and global understanding, which appealed to David because it could lead to prestigious universities and broad knowledge. The second, however, focused on career-related skills and practical learning, with module learning such as science and business streams. This school combined academic studies with professional skills, preparing students for specific careers and guaranteeing students' entry into a great number of overseas universities. David felt torn. He knew this decision would shape his future, so he carefully considered his interests and goals. Taking a deep breath, he prepared to choose the path that best fit his aspirations.
